

COMPILED BY MADELEINE MARR FROM MIAMI HERALD STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

people

RADAR

What we're checking out this week

BUY

Navy is the new blue. The always regal, always flattering shade was all over New York Fashion Week, mixed with beige, gray, even — yes! — black. Donald J Pliner's hot shoe-sandal, the Garbo, gives navy the showcase it deserves. The calf-hair slide's silhouette is femme, graceful and sexy. But the real appeal lies in its comfort: the sole is made of cork and rubber, so you feel like you're walking in flip-flops (well, almost). $295 at DJP stores, Aventura and Merrick Park.

EAT

Au Pied de Cochon's been open a few months, but don't overlook this Miami Beach gem. Those who know the Paris original will appreciate the whimsical design of the 6,000-square-foot complex inside the 1938 Henry Hoehner-designed Deco classic. The menu is as vast as the space. French brasserie standards include onion soup gratinée, moules marinières, pan-fried foie gras with apples and steak tartare prepared tableside. — Miami.com

WATCH

Paranormal Activity will frighten the hell out of you. This low-budget horror flick from first-time writer-director Oren Pell (who shot it for $11,000) is filmed documentary-style. Think Blair Witch Project, but indoors. The plot follows a young couple in a suburban home who believe an evil presence is messing with them while they're asleep. So they set up a video camera to record their suspicions. It really gets scary when the night-vision scenes start. Sneak peeks went on over the weekend in Miami; wide release dates are yet to be announced. If you want to see the trailer and request further showings, go to www.paranormalactivity-movie.com and click on Demandit!

READ

Wanna find your "inner ferocia" and avoid being a hot tranny mess? Get a copy of Christian Siriano's book, Fierce Style: How to Be Your Most Fabulous Self. Since being crowned the youngest winner of Bravo's Project Runway, Siriano, 23, has shown his collections at Fashion Week in New York, designed for Puma, collaborated with Saks and Payless, and created a makeup line for Victoria's Secret Beauty. Fierce Style is loaded with photos and sketches, features his list of do's and don'ts, and most important, tells you how to look fierce on a budget. It comes out today and retails for $23.99.

WATCH

If you can't get "Don't Be Tardy For the Party" out of your head, then it's obvious you've been watching the latest installment of the Real Housewives of Atlanta on Bravo, 9 p.m. Thursdays. This season has been full of confrontations, singing, parties, photo shoots, more confrontations and a wig-pulling incident, all brought to you by the "finest" ladies of the 404. Although the season is almost done, the ride isn't over. The abundant cattiness is nonstop and makes for some hilarious mindless TV. One can't help but chuckle when Nene (the most vocal cast member) proclaims, "I am a socialite... but Candi [the newest cast member of this Southern motley crew], she is ghet-TO!" Ghetto or not, if you haven't tuned in, a Real Housewives of Atlanta marathon is surely on the horizon. — JUAN LOPEZ & MADDY MARR

NENE

AS SEEN ON TV

Lisa Masterson: The smart and sassy doctor is in Like most gynecologists, Dr. Lisa Masterson is used to answering embarrassing questions.

But on the daytime talk show The Doctors, Masterson (who shares the stage with three male doctors) has proven that nothing is off limits.

From butt implants to bikini waxing, the California native admits helping women on the show (and sometimes their partners, too) is just part of the fun.

"The show has really broken down a lot of barriers," she said. "Things that people are normally shy about now have an open dialogue."

Masterson, who runs her own practice and spa in Santa Monica, has also written a book for teenage girls, Go Figure.

"I really try to teach women to feel more comfortable with themselves, to love their bodies."

And it's easy to take advice from Masterson. The petite brunette beauty keeps in shape by surfing, a hobby she shares with her 18-year-old son.

Of course, the exercise segments that air on The Doctors don't hurt either.

"People shouldn't be afraid to be open and honest with their doctor," she said. "That's what's so great about the show, we use humor and entertainment to educate the public... it makes them feel at ease."

The Doctors airs at 3 p.m. Monday-Friday on WFOR-CBS 4.

— MICAELA HOOD

MASTERSON

birthdays

Cartoonist Bill Keane (Family Circus) is 87. Singer-guitarist Steve Miller is 66. Singer Brian Johnson of AC/DC is 62. Actor Jeff Conaway (Taxi) is 59. Actress Karen Allen is 58. Director Clive Barker is 57. Singer Bob Geldof is 55. Actor Daniel Baldwin is 49. Josie Bissett (Melrose Place) is 39. Actress Parminder Nagra (ER) is 34. Kate Winslet is 34.

WINSLET

calendar

GET CUTE 9 a.m.

RikRak Salon invites new customers to receive a complimentary blow dry and Kerastase deep conditioning treatment Mondays through Thursdays until Nov. 15, as well as 50% off eyebrow threading. Current clients receive 25% off any color or hair-cut service. RikRak Salon, 1428 Brickell Ave., Miami; 305-371-7324.

STEAK 6 p.m.

Red, The Steakhouse is now open for dinner on Mondays. Come watch Monday Night Football and meet special guest Miami Dolphins players every week. Ladies enjoy $10 cosmopolitans all night long. The restaurant will also offer a new prix fixe Sunset Menu through October, which includes a three-course menu featuring signature dishes by Executive Chef Peter Vauthy for $39 (plus tax and tip). Red, The Steakhouse, 119 Washington Ave., Miami Beach; 305-534-3688.

READ MY PINS 7:30 p.m.

First female Secretary of State Madeleine Albright shares the compelling and often humorous stories behind her unique pin collection. Tickets are $5 and can be used as a coupon toward the purchase of Read My Pins or any other books at Books & Books, Temple Judea, 5500 Granada Blvd., Coral Gables; 305-442-4408.

Send events to areyes@MiamiHerald.com.

miami.com
For more fun listings go to miami.com

ON THE SHELVES

Rory Tahari: list mistress

Life doesn't come with an instruction manual, unfortunately. That's where Lists for Life comes in so handy.

Rory Tahari, the creative director of fashion house Elie Tahari (that's her husband), has written this handy Zagat-sized guide (Simon & Schuster, $19.99) to help get us organized and stay sane.

Tahari, 37, leaves little ground uncovered with her resourceful lists on topics ranging from wedding planning, pregnancy and birth to moving, traveling and getting a divorce (better safeguard those resources!).

There's even a chapter on death and funerals: 1. Select music. 2. Provide photographs of the deceased to display. 3. Give or assign the eulogy.

TAHARI

Wow.

"God forbid someone dies, you're not going to run out to the bookstore," says Tahari from her office in New York. "That's not how life works."

The mother of two, who will celebrate the book's release at a cocktail party Monday night at the Tahari Bal Harbour shop, says writing the book was simple. She's been using lists to manage personal affairs her entire life. Ninety percent comes from her own experiences.

"This is a way of life for me," says the former TV producer originally from Atlanta. "The first thing I do is make a list to deal with whatever the situation is."

Tahari jotted down so many notes that the nickname "The List Mistress" stuck.

"I was always the first of my friends to go through major situations," she says. "I thought to myself, if I could make their journey a little less difficult, then I did a good deed for the day."

— MADELEINE MARR

More info: listsforlife.com.

BOX OFFICE

Fans feast on 'Zombieland'

The undead were alive and well as Woody Harrelson's horror comedy Zombieland opened with $25 million.

The general box office was less lively as a flurry of new releases did solid to ho-hum business. Overall Hollywood revenues came in at $113.4 million, down 4 percent from the same weekend last year.

Ticket sales for Friday through Sunday were:

1. Zombieland, $25 million.
2. Cloudy With a Chance of Meatballs, $16.7 million.
3. Toy Story and Toy Story 2 in 3-D, $12.5 million.
4. The Invention of Lying, $7.4 million.
5. Surrogates, $7.3 million.
- 6 (tie). Capitalism: A Love Story and Whip It, both with $4.85 million.
8. Fame, $4.8 million.
9. The Informant!, $3.8 million.
10. Love Happens, $2.8 million.

CELEBRITY ROUNDUP

Opening her eyes and those of her fans

She's a Disney teen queen, a TV wizard and a fledgling rock singer. But 17-year-old Selena Gomez says what really blew her mind recently was a trip to the African nation of Ghana.

"It was completely life-changing and eye-opening," said Gomez, who traveled last month with her mother and stepfather in her role as UNICEF's youngest-ever ambassador.

This is Gomez's second year as spokesperson for the Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF program, which is one of the longest-running youth volunteer movements in America. Last year, Gomez raised $700,000 for the campaign; this year she hopes to bring in $1 million.

Many kids who watch Gomez play Alex Russo on the Disney Channel's Wizards of Waverly Place know little about Africa or the issues facing it, Gomez said. "That's why I feel very honored to have a voice that kids listen to," she said.

"... because I went there, they now know where Ghana is. So it's pretty incredible."

BACK TO SCHOOL

Wyclef Jean heads back to school this week to earn a degree from Boston's Berklee College of Music. The Haitian-born hip-hop artist and former frontman for The Fugees says he left college after only one semester to pursue his career and that going back to school has always been a goal.

'I'd like to take more walks after work instead of having to come back to my hotel room and not leave.'

— 'Twilight's' KRISTIN STEWART, who tells interview that fame is getting to her